(Bellevue, WA – February 17, 2016) – Home Care Assistance of Seattle, a leading provider of in-home care for seniors, welcomes Paul Hatherley as their new Director of Client Services. Paul brings over ten years of professional experience in home care to his new role after having managed successful home care operations in Nevada, California and now Washington. He has a background in health care and has fulfilled a variety of roles within home care organizations which has given him a strong appreciation for his caregivers and the clients they serve. His strong communication skills and dedication to helping others also make him a perfect proponent of the company's mission to change the way the world ages.

“At Home Care Assistance, our mission is to change the way the world ages,” said Hatherley. “I am thrilled to be a part of a home care team that is supporting our mission through unique offerings such as the Balanced Care Method™, a holistic approach to care, and the Cognitive Therapeutics Method™, an in-home activities-based program to promote brain health.”

Based on the scientific studies of the world's healthiest seniors, the Balanced Care Method promotes five key lifestyle behaviors correlated with healthy longevity: healthy diet, physical exercise, active social ties, mental stimulation and a sense of purpose and calm. Caregivers are professionally trained to incorporate the Method into daily care to encourage healthy mind, body and spirit. In addition, the Cognitive Therapeutics Method is a research-based program designed to promote long-term brain health and prevent cognitive decline by stimulating the five main cognitive domains with fun and engaging activities.
