Home Care Assistance of Scottsdale Launches New Caregiver Training Program with the Institute for Professional Care Education®

Home Care Assistance of Scottsdale has chosen the Institute for Professional Care Education (IPCed®) to provide online caregiver training and compliance to all their employees

(Scottsdale, AZ – July 12, 2016) Home Care Assistance of Scottsdale, a leading provider of non-medical in-home care, has made a commitment to providing the highest quality care to seniors in the Greater Scottsdale area by implementing employee training programs developed by the Institute for Professional Care Education. Home Care Assistance's employees now have access to the IPCed online caregiver training as well as IPCed's award-winning Medifecta series of DVD-based caregiver trainings.

"We're using IPCed's training programs to ensure that all our employees have the skills they need to provide outstanding care. Quality matters and we're committed to Home Care Assistance of Scottsdale being the first choice provider in the greater Scottsdale area," said Ted Holmgren, General Manager – Home Care Assistance of Scottsdale.

The Institute for Professional Care Education is the leader in high-quality training for senior care professionals. By choosing IPCed as its training partner, Home Care Assistance is showing the home care industry and their customers that they are dedicated to providing the best possible care.
