(Jefferson County, CO – July 5, 2017) Home Care Assistance Jefferson County, a leading provider of in-home care for seniors, is dedicated in partnering with other organizations in an effort to educate the community about mental health awareness. In line with this commitment to community education, Home Care Assistance of Jefferson County is partnering with the Alzheimer's Foundation of America to hold a memory screening. The memory screening will be held on July 21st and July 22nd at the Home Care Assistance Jefferson County office from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Home Care Assistance Jefferson County office is located at 12792 W. Alameda Pkwy, Lakewood Unit #F in Jefferson County, CO. This screening is free, open to the public and will offer valuable information to community members.

"We are proud to volunteer to support the Alzheimer's Foundation of America in their endeavor to promote the early detection of memory problems. Our management staff at Home Care Assistance is proud to have been trained and approved to conduct Memory Screenings at our Lakewood, Colorado office for the Alzheimer's Foundation of America. We recognize the importance of early detection. Some memory problems - such as those caused by vitamin deficiencies or thyroid problems - can be readily treated. In general the earlier the diagnosis, the easier it is to treat one of these conditions. As volunteers, we are proud to provide this free service to our community, said Steve Coe, owner of Home Care Assistance of Jefferson County.

More information about memory screenings:

- Memory screenings are considered routine health check-ups
- Memory screenings are approximately ten minutes
- Results are not considered a diagnosis
- Results can be used to evaluate further consultation by a physician
